

M. FIRON & CO. ADVOCATES

INFRASTRUCTURE AND PROJECT FINANCE

Over the past 70 years, M. Firon & Co. has developed and grown along with the State of Israel and has had the privilege to actively support the construction of the largest, most challenging, and major national projects. The firm has consistently won respect in Israel and abroad, as is expressed each year in its top-tier ranking in infrastructures, projects, energy, and project financing in the leading Israeli and international legal rating guides.

M. Firon & Co. supports leading developers as well as governmental companies in a range of infrastructure projects in transport, energy, water, public housing, and more.

Firon & Co. made its mark in the Israeli economy by leading and being highly involved in all phases of national construction projects such as the construction of highways, tunnels, railways, ports, desalination plants, power stations, renewable energy, defense projects, courts, government buildings, houses for rent and students' hostels.

Firon & Co. is a leading firm in this field with a unique unparalleled experience gained over many years of legally leading the largest and historic infrastructure projects including PPP, PFI, BOT, and BOO projects.

The firm represents the entire range of public, institutional and commercial organizations in the field of infrastructures and energy, before and alongside developers, contractors, state authorities, NGOs, colleges, and funding bodies including representing the largest banks. In recent years, M. Firon & Co. has handled the financing arrangements and agreements of the most capital-intensive and complex projects in Israel.

The real estate, infrastructures and project finance department believes in providing its clients with the most comprehensive, extensive, and professional service in which clients receive an overall spectrum of legal advice and services including the broadest solutions for all legal issues.

The firm's clients are given close and personal support by a Partner in every case and also benefit from the overall legal know-how of the Department in real estate, planning, and construction subjects.

The Department's clients include the largest and leading public and private organizations in Israel and overseas, and at any given time the firm supports deals for developers, financiers, real estate companies, energy firms, transport organizations, government ministries, municipalities, banks, institutional investors, and more.
